<I received numerous phone calls during the period 10/6 - 11/25 repeating the following questions: Q: Please tell me about the status of the extension period, what is the status of the HAPs amendment, when will the public meetings for the PK ECAs begin, and what is the status of the PK reviews? I explained that we are preparing an amendment to the HAPs proposal which we anticipate will publish before the December 1 close of the comment period and that the amendment will contain an extension of the comment period so that persons will have time to comment on the HAPs proposal as amended. In the event that the Agency does not publish the amendment then we will publish yet another extension notice so that we can complete our work on amending the HAPs proposal. The public meetings are tentatively scheduled to begin in January and will be announced in the FR some time during the early part of December. I noted that ethylene glycol was not among the initial group of chemicals to be discussed. The agency has completed the review of all 8 PK proposals and these reviews are or will soon be available from the docket.>
